Claim Chinese Red Attackers Meet Reverse

Chiang Kai-Shek Government Troops Claim Initial Success In Big Battle

REINFORCEMENTS ARE BEING RUSHED

NANKING, Nov. 13.—(INS)—The Chiang Kai-Shek government today claimed initial success in turning back hordes of Chinese Communist troops striking from the north toward the vital Yangtze valley.

An estimated one million men were reported locked in the struggle which may decide the fate of China.

The central government claimed that Nationalist troops inflicted 37,000 casualties on the Red forces in the Suchow area on the northern approaches of Nanking and Shanghai, two of China's most important cities.

Ten Thousand Dead

The Nationalist defense ministry said that more than "ten thousand dead bodies were left by the Communists" during 40 night attacks made by the Reds since Wednesday. It was reported that 4,000 Communists surrendered.

The Nationalists also said that their air force blasted 70 per cent of the Communist field pieces up to Friday morning in the battle for Suchow.

Both Communists and Nationalists were reported rushing reinforcements into the fight raging within two hundred miles of Nanking, the central government's capital.

Send Reserve Forces

Nationalists were sending their reserve forces from points along the Peiping-Hankow railroad. The Communists were reported bringing up battle-hardened veteran troops fresh from victories (Continued on Page Two)

Wage Agreement Is Accepted By Rail Brotherhoods

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Settlement by three operating brotherhoods of their wage dispute with the nation's rail carriers virtually knocked the props out from under pay demands of 16 non-operating unions today.

Some 175,000 engineers, engine-men and switchmen voted yesterday to accept a 10-cent hourly wage hike retroactive to Oct. 16. A similar increase was accepted a month ago by the railroad trainmen and the conductor's union.

A presidential fact-finding board in Chicago currently is hearing arguments on the non-operating unions' demand for a 25-cent hourly pay boost and reduction of the work week from 48 to 40 hours.

Observers believed that the latest settlement dampened the chances of the non-operating men to gain more than the 10-cent increase which has been established as the pattern for the third-round raises. It was expected that the agreement would affect materially the ultimate recommendation of the presidential emergency board.

Pa Newc Observes

R. E. Conway of North Beaver township brought four ears of corn into The News that are unusual for a couple of reasons.

The ears are about 12 inches long, with 20 rows of large, healthy kernels in each. In size alone they are remarkable. More remarkable is the fact they were planted for ensilage and then allowed to mature. Ordinarily ensilage corn is small, the value being in the heavy growth of stalks. The corn is US 13, hybrid.

Soon to be added to the churches of the community observing important anniversaries will be the First U. P. church, Glenmore at Albert street. Members of this congregation will celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of their church next year.

Honor Charter Members

As the dinner neared its end, DeLace Cole, Charles T. Metzler and George Lyon, the three surviving charter members of the club, were called to the center of the speaker's table, and cut the birthday cake, which was inscribed with Rotary International, 35 years, following which the other guests were served with their dessert.

A telegram was read from Stan Gillespie, of Greenville, District Governor, expressing his regret at the inability of himself and wife to be in attendance, but extended the best wishes of himself and Rotary International, for continued success in the future.

President Goes On Cruise Today

Will Visit Ruins Of Notorious Political Penal Colony Of Century Ago

By ROBERT G. NIXON (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 13.—President Truman continued his study of the critical Chinese situation today on leaving the Key West naval station for a cruise to the Dry Tortugas.

The President will visit the ruins of Fort Jefferson, notorious political penal colony of a century ago.

The Chief Executive took members of his staff aboard the presidential yacht, Williamsburg, for a day's sight-seeing to the island fortress which once commanded the approaches to the entire southern United States.

Joined By Family

The President was joined in the cruise by the First Lady and their daughter, Margaret, who arrived here yesterday afternoon by automobile from Miami.

It was the President's second visit to the huge old brick fortress, remembered mostly as the place in which Dr. Samuel Mudd, Maryland physician who set the fractured leg of John Wilkes Booth, assassin of President Lincoln, was imprisoned.

Surrounded by a shark-infested moat and at one time ridden by yellow fever, the notorious fortress prison was known as the American "Devil's Island."

The President visited the fortress once before on a trip to Key West a couple of years ago.

Longshoremen Out On Strike

East Coast Ports Are Tied Up As Result Of Walk-out Of 45,000 Men

MAY SPREAD TO PORTS ON GULF

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—An estimated 45,000 longshoremen went on strike today all along the Atlantic seaboard, tying up every major East Coast port.

Fears were expressed that the walkout, if not quickly settled, will spread to the Gulf of Mexico and tie up all U.S. shipping.

The strike, which began three days ago as a wildcat walkout in New York and Boston, became officially effective at 12:01 a. m.

It received union sanction yesterday after East Coast stevedores, all members of the International Longshoremen's association, AFL, voted overwhelmingly to reject new contract terms tentatively approved by union officials.

Terms Rejected

The rejected terms included hourly increases of 10 cents for straight pay and 15 cents for overtime, compared with the union demand for a 50-cents an hour increase.

The straight rate under the old contract is $1.75 cents an hour and the overtime rate $2.62½.

Federal conciliators conferred with employers and union officials yesterday after the vote was announced, but were informed by the employers' committee that "we (Continued on Page Two)

Top Leaders Of U. N. Urge Four Nations To Act

Big Four Executives Asked To Take Active Steps To Solve Berlin Crisis

MOVE MADE TODAY IS UNPRECEDENTED

By PIERRE J. NUSS (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Top leaders of the United Nations urged President Truman and the other Big Four executives today to take "active steps" for solution of the Berlin crisis.

Dr. Herbert Vere Evatt, Australian minister for external affairs and president of the U. N. General Assembly, joined with Secretary General Trygve Lie in sending an unprecedented note to the heads of the four great nations of the world.

It was addressed to President Truman, British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Premier Joseph Stalin of Soviet Russia and Premier Henri Queuille of France.

Urges Action

The note recommended with utmost urgency that these four leaders move immediately to implement a unanimously adopted resolution submitted by Dr. Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico that the great powers bury their superficial differences and work together for world peace.

The communication said: "We believe that the first step is to resolve the Berlin question."

The Evatt-Lie message caught delegates, observers and correspondents at the Palais De Chaillot meeting hall in Paris entirely by surprise.

It followed by less than twenty-four hours a declaration by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall that Soviet Russia has embarked upon a propaganda "peace offensive" which is dangerous to the American policy of re-arming western Europe in a crusade against the spread of communism.

Secretary Marshall also said (Continued on Page Two)

Marshall Denies Any Decision On Resignation Plan

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall said today that he has not decided to resign from the cabinet and that he will never take a decision of this nature "without discussing it with President Truman."

Marshall, provoked by speculative news stories, issued the following statement: "I note with regret a press statement alleging that I 'still cling to my original intention to resign from the cabinet January 20.'"

"I regret that my remarks at my press conference yesterday were misconstrued. I thought I made it obvious that I would never take a decision of this nature without discussing it with the President and that he and I have never discussed the matter."

Seeks To Form Greek Cabinet

ATHENS, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Populist Leader C. Tsaldaris was commissioned by King Paul of Greece today to form a new government to replace the resigned cabinet of Themistocles Sophoulis.

Before proceeding to the palace, Tsaldaris, foreign minister in the old government, has termed the Greek cabinet crisis "untimely and dangerous" and said it "must be solved radically within a few hours."

The Populist party, which Tsaldaris heads, is the strongest group in the Greek parliament, controlling 132 of 354 seats.

Tsaldaris conferred with members of his party soon after arrival and was scheduled to see King Paul about noon.

The Populist leader, who was known as the "strong man" behind the fallen Liberal-Populist coalition, had been attending United Nations sessions in the French capital.

TWO ARMY AIRMEN KILLED IN CRASH

ATTICA, Ind., Nov. 13.—(INS)—Two men were killed today in the crash of an army air force plane eight miles southeast of Attica.

Police Chief Lavon Carson of Attica, said the bodies of two victims found in the wreckage are being held for Chantue Field, Ill., authorities. He said the crash occurred about 7 a. m. today.

The C-45 Beacherfield was en route from Chantue field to Bolling field, in Washington, D. C.

I hardly imagine the skies will fall, and the sun will shine and the moon will pursue their course, and that, though we lost a game, it isn't a matter of life and death, nor a cause that will shake the state, and Christmas will come at its usual time and be here on the usual date. Of course we lost and we're sorry too, but there's nothing that we can do, save play ahead for the season to come, the weather is fifty-fifty.

Bunche Plan For Palestine Peace Makes Progress

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(INS)—The U. N. Security Council's special Palestine committee today endorsed the Bunche plan ordering Israeli troops to withdraw to South Palestine positions held before October 14.

The United States took the lead in committee approval of the proposal, which calls also for demilitarization of the Negev area in the southern Holy Land.

The plan put forward by the mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, provides for establishment of a demarcation line behind which Israeli forces would be ordered to withdraw.

Control Wrested
Jewish troops wrested control of virtually the whole area from Egyptian forces in a major victory which began just after the deadline date set in the proposal.

The committee action was taken on motion of U. S. Delegate Dr. Philip Jessup, who offered a motion approving the Bunche plan as "equitable" and in full conformity with U. N. instructions.

Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik, a member of the seven-nation committee, abstained from voting. He declared that the demarcation line set forth in the proposal is unacceptable.

Dr. Bunche announced following the meeting that he will communicate news of the vote to Egypt and Israel immediately.

COOL RECEPTION ACCORDED IDEA OF CONGRESS CALL

Vandenberg (R) Mich., chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, was equally cool to the idea. Rep. Boon (D) N.Y., who will head the House Foreign Affairs committee, said:

"China had better correct the evils that have existed over there since the time General Marshall was there. If they clean up their own house, then the United States would be able to help."

Indifference of administration officials was attributed to two things, they are:

1. The special session would be dominated by Republicans, and passage of administration measures might be difficult.

2. The policy of the United States at present is to await developments, particularly in the current battle above Nanking and Shanghai.

NEW BEDFORD

HEARTS AND DIAMONDS CLUB

that a possible new meeting between President Truman and Marshall Stalin had been discussed only in the press. He added that no approaches have been made since the chief executive dropped his plan for sending Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the U. S. Supreme Court to Moscow.

After citing the Padillo Negro resolution which had the unique distinction of a unanimous U. N. acceptance, the letter addressed to Washington, London, Paris and Moscow said:

"The world rightly expects the signatories to take active steps toward carrying it out without delay."

"We believe that the first step is to resolve the Berlin question."

Danger Undiminished
"The danger to the peace and security of all nations continues undiminished."

"It is within the power of the leaders of the great nations to which this communication is addressed to end this danger to peace."

"We therefore respectfully urge upon the governments of France, Soviet Union, The United Kingdom and the United States the desirability of immediate conversations and of taking all necessary steps toward solution of the Berlin question, thus opening the way to prompt resumption of negotiations for conclusion of the remaining peace settlements for Germany, Austria and Japan."

Early Reply Awaited
The joint note was handed to the chairmen of the respective Big Four U. N. delegations with a pointed mention of the fact that an "early reply" is awaited.

It was the first time in the history of the United Nations and since the drafting of the charter in San Francisco in 1946 that such a message was sent to the chiefs of state.

The only thing approaching a precedent was marked earlier this week when Secretary-General Lie sent a note to King Paul of Greece asking his personal intervention to halt the execution of twelve Greek leaders had been condemned to death for alleged anti-government activities.

Today's bombshell U. N. action came amid charges by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky that the United States is "plotting a Pearl Harbor" against Russia.

A drawing for three beautiful door prizes next occupied the attention of the ladies, which was in charge of Jacob F. Rentz and Richard E. Rentz, and the fortunate ladies who received these awards were: Mrs. G. Crawford Lyon, Mrs. Leslie Wilson, and Mrs. William H. Haines.

Prof. Walter Biberich, of New Wilmington, then presented an interesting program of magic and hypnotism, in which he demonstrated the power of suggestion, on a group of Rotarians and Rotary Anns, selected from the audience.

John W. McClelland was general chairman of the evening with Richard E. Rentz in charge of the entertainment, and the evening proved a most enjoyable one, as well as a significant one, fittingly commemorating the 35th milestone of the club, which has been a leader in community service since its inception.

He is expected to arrive in New York by air early tomorrow morning.

Spread of the strike to New York's 20,000 tugboat workers would threaten the metropolis with serious food, coal and gasoline shortages.

ILA President Joseph P. Ryan said last night, however, that the walkout will not extend to the tugboat workers unless tugboat operations interfere with the strike.

THE EPHEMERAL AGE

The tempo of human history is accelerating at a dizzy rate. The Stone Age moved at a leisurely pace and lasted nobody knows how many millenniums. The Bronze Age is hardly more than 7,000 years old. But the Atomic Age may last considerably less than a century. Or, to use a term the atom may rob of meaning, less than a lifetime.

A research scientist, Dr. Eugene Ayres of Pittsburgh, warns that this nation's supply of uranium may be gone in 30 years. Official figures are a military secret, but he believes that probably one-third of the known supply is being made into bombs each year. Not much more uranium is likely to be discovered here.

If that is true, the use of peacetime atomic power to usher in a new age of peacetime comfort, plenty and freedom seems chimerical.

The United States, Dr. Ayres believes, has about one-tenth of the world's supply of uranium. If Uncle Sam should start using his atomic bombs, he might presently find himself in the unpleasant position of having none left while the remainder of the world had plenty.

But Dr. Ayres was not talking about atomic war. If he had been, he might have given the Atomic Age even less than 30 years to go. He was talking about new sources of power the world must find before it runs out of coal and oil. At present rates of consumption, he estimates, man has three or four centuries to find them.

Some students give a much lower estimate, and everybody knows that accelerating consumption and a few big wars would upset all calculations.

He suggested a few possibilities. The tides may be harnessed. Methods may be found to harness the sun's power, which will be inexhaustible as long as life is possible on this planet. Tropic waters, vegetation and the untapped heat of the earth's interior are other sources.

None of them, at this safe distance, seems as frightening as the atom.

NEW ROLE FOR THE NAVY

This year's traditional "war games" of the Navy's Atlantic and Pacific fleets brings sharply into focus the switch in operational purpose of the fleet from defensive striking force to offensive amphibious arm.

Exercises on both coasts this year revolved around an amphibious assault. The one carried out several days ago by Marines at Argentia, Newfoundland, was the first "cold weather" amphibious lift ever attempted.

Though it is only now being generally realized, the hop, skip and jump across the Pacific and the landings in the Mediterranean, Normandy and elsewhere, were the basis of an altogether new concept of naval warfare. Navy planners were quick to spot the value of it and set in motion the metamorphosis that today finds the Navy in an entirely new role.

This doesn't herald the end of carriers, cruisers and other smaller fighting ships which have always symbolized the Navy. It is merely proof that the tactical roles of each type have been shifted. Broadly speaking, it signals the change of defensive strategy and, by a rearrangement of functions, solidly establishing the Navy as an amphibious Sunday punch.

MODERN "LEADERS"

In England Winston Churchill has been speaking his mind, telling the people how the world wags as he sees it. Now there is a report that the Conservative Party, which he heads, would like to dispense with him because of his lack of expediency.

The party would be willing to keep him as a figurehead, but because he is a law unto himself and takes little notice of what opportunists in the party think, he ought to say, many leaders would be willing to oust him from his position of party spokesman.

Some men are known for their much speaking and others for their plain speaking. Churchill is one of the latter, and today that is quite unpopular in certain circles. Politicians in all countries are given to spending hours over their public pronouncements, not to make sure they are telling the truth as nearly as they can determine it, but to make sure they are stating a proposition in such a way that it will please the most ears.

What a travesty on leadership! A leader thinks creatively and then tries to convince people that he is right. But the modern idea is to let public opinion come to a jell in some manner and then cater to it regardless of consequences.

The Conservative Party in England can ditch Churchill all right. He is an old man. But both the party and England will lose a great deal if it adopts a policy of expediency regardless of what the truth may be.

All good things must come to an end, including President Truman's honeymoon.

Communists lost 80 per cent of their seats in the French legislature. France must be full of low-down, imperialistic capitalists.

Washington has its eye on high corporation earnings and there is some prospect that steps will be taken about the law and the profits.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Rumors of a possible new meeting between President Truman and Premier Stalin persist despite all denials and cable gossip in Europe babble around the question of where such a conference might best be held.

The reports keep coming mainly on the basis of the fact that Mr. Truman, with his newly-won mandate, might well be expected to take some bold step to cut the international deadlock that prevails on so many fronts.

War Talk Subsidized
 With or without justification, they are given some substance and weight by the coincidence that war talk has subsided noticeably in Europe during the last week or two. Many observers feel that some striking measure of cooperation, no matter how unorthodox, would be welcomed widely.

For sentimental or even superstitious reasons, the torn and battered city of Berlin figures prominently in the speculation over a possible site.

Final favor because Berlin, after all, is the heart and core of all the major differences between East and West.

In addition, there is no handier example or what war can do to a major metropolis. Its gaunt wreckage is a constant, irrefragable and irreparable warning and reminder.

Drawback Found
 A drawback can be found in the fact that Berlin's "host" area is Potsdam, where Mr. Truman and Stalin met once before.

That fabulous suburb, with its parks and Hohenzollern palaces that include King Frederick's playground of Sans Souci, is part of the Soviet sector. A visit by the President to Potsdam would not be very different from going all the way to Moscow.

But the U. S. zone embraces some nice areas indeed, such as Zehlendorf where all the top Nazis appropriated lavish villas from their owners either because they were Jewish or in the way.

Mr. Truman has never been much of a hand at living in palaces, anyway, and those who have seen it say that Stalin's country home or "dacha" is simple in the extreme as a relief from the ornate trimmings of the high-walled Kremlin.

Unparalleled Background
 In Berlin and only a 15-minute automobile ride from the rubbish of what was once Europe's most bustling capital the two chief executives would have an unparalleled background for discussion of fundamentals. When they met before, there were no cracks in the armor of Allied unity.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MORE EMPHASIS ON SENSE OF DUTY

Gone from our philosophy of education are such terms as "sense of duty." Now suppose this philosophy of duty omitting sense of duty worked universally and no person ever attended from a sense of duty his lodge, church, or church. Suppose no church ushers, church members or members of a church board ever were on hand from a sense of duty. What would happen, do you suppose? Apparently, the very thing is happening you have in mind and fewer persons year by year are regulating from a sense of duty their own living in the program. Now, when we do something from a sense of duty we drive ourselves to do this something. We would rather not do it.

Yet according to the prevailing philosophy of education children should not, as a rule, be required to do anything. We are to make everything so attractive to the growing child that he will choose on his own accord to do what he ought to do. Then in some mysterious way he is supposed to be driven to himself to do some of these things. Peeling potatoes, washing dishes, making beds and many other similar jobs about the home, even practicing music lessons, are to be made so alluring to the child that he just won't be able to resist himself from doing them. Then, because of the great satisfactions derived from this voluntary activity, he will come to feel he ought to continue doing such in order to continue enjoying such satisfactions.

Many parents believing this silly doctrine have tried it and, upon failing to do the expected results, just blame themselves for not having been clever enough to make the jobs sufficiently attractive. An occasional parent, on being disillusioned, will begin to jaw at the child for being so lazy or so ungrateful to his parents or for being so lacking in any sense of duty. Now we don't cultivate a sense of duty in a child by exhorting him and jawing "shoulds" and "oughts" at him. The answer is by seeing that child does certain jobs he is able to do. (My bulletin, "How Teach Child to Help at Home," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.) We require him to do these jobs. We set the stage so that he will do them with a minimum of resistance and a maximum of satisfaction, and will do them regardless of his resistance to them. When doubt and hope of escape are removed and needless annoyances like jawing and arguments are absent, skills develop and the job becomes easier. It may even become satisfying. Then with a nice relationship present, it is not at all impossible for this growing child actually to gain a sense of duty.

You and I have seen children who, having been required to do some regular jobs about the home and to share in the family responsibilities, in a family atmosphere of understanding and companionship, have, as they grew older, revealed a strong sense of duty concerning all sorts of responsibilities. It can be done. It should be done.

There was no argument as to whether or not American troops, instead of Russian, should have captured Berlin. There was plenty of prestige for all.

And those in the American delegation visiting Berlin for the first time and who believe that the Soviet capture was a major Allied blunder, might have occasion to reconsider.

At first sight, Berlin gives the expected appearance of a city 70 per cent destroyed by aerial bombardment in which twelve-ton "block-buster" bombs had become the rule rather than the exception in the final stages.

Artillery Did Damage
 But on closer examination, it is found that artillery also played a major role in the destruction, as did close-range mortar fire and grenade attacks.

That was necessary because the Germans held Berlin until the bitter end. They fought in the streets in the suburbs and in the city's beautiful parks and Stalin claims that the cost of his victory in the German capital was no less than 500 thousand men.

The argument sometimes is offered that Berlin would have survived.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

It's just possible that I should have my head examined. There must be something wrong with me.

After these many years as a newspaperman, after associating with the so-called intelligentsia, after the cynicism and cynicism and sophistication of night clubs and gym joints all over the world, I get more and more of a kick out of this America of ours.

Yesterday I told you about the DeCicco Shoe Shining company, Inc., an organization that could flourish only in the U. S. A.

Today I want you to meet Miss Mary Victoria Izzo, of Richmond Avenue, Westport, Conn.

Or rather I should have said the former Miss Izzo.

Because Miss Izzo is Mrs. Paul Papageorge now.

Mary Izzo has been and will be again, after the honeymoon, the head girl at the soda fountain in Colgan's Drug Store at the corner of State Street and Taylor Place in Westport.

To every Westporter Miss Izzo has been Mary.

She is about four feet ten in height, has fiery red hair and a temper to match.

I have never seen anybody better nor anybody who can make a better meat loaf sandwich or a better chocolate soda than Mary Izzo—pardon me, than Mrs. Paul Papageorge.

Right across the street from Colgan's drug store there is a diner called Club Grill.

One can look right into that diner from the drug store. Paul Papageorge works in that grill. He is a good-looking young fellow with dark hair and a sunny disposition and I doubt that anybody can make a better hamburger sandwich than Paul Papageorge.

Well, as these things do happen, the two met and fell in love.

None of the customers knew anything about it until the papers announced the engagement and then the wedding.

You should have seen the stories in the two weeklies in Westport, and in the papers of the neighboring towns as well. If it had been the most important society wedding in Connecticut, it couldn't have got more space than Mary's and Paul's "nuptials," as the papers called it.

They told of the bride's "off-the-shoulder white satin gown with a full skirt and a fingertip veil" and of the white orchids she carried.

They told of how the Rev. Hatzilampros officiated at the wedding in Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Bridgeport, and described the bride's traveling ensemble as "a gray gabardine with black accessories."

They also told that Mrs. Papageorge would go back to the soda counter after the honeymoon and Mr. Papageorge back to the Club Grill across the street.

But, best of all, one of the papers told, in its real estate column, that the bride's father "is adding two rooms to his home for $2,500." "This, they say, is America." (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

From Me To You

By MESEBALL

The loss last night on the football field will not or did not affect New Castle's standing in the WPAL league . . . there are now three teams on the books and it's up to the officials of the WPAL board to decide just who is in the running for the play-off . . . we are told that they use the Ralph Gardner system of scoring and that system is a bit complicated to explain right here.

We didn't see the game . . . but many have reported their comments . . . which we will not attempt to print . . . But we can say this . . . if New Castle is considered in the play-off and play ball like they did last evening . . . the results would be very sad indeed. Look over the statistics and perhaps that will tell the story.

The two bands however did offer the fans a thrill . . . Warren Band strutted their stuff and the high point of interest from the New Castle Band came when the lights went off and the lights on caps went on. One thing however . . . a piece of equipment should be developed that would amplify the music so that the entire crowd could hear the music . . . perhaps a portable "mike".

Many of the fans we hear . . . spent a good portion of the time watching the time clock on the score board . . . very erratic they say . . . and of course they let their thoughts be known concerning same by calling out . . . "stop that clock".

Old man weather did his part . . . rain before the game . . . rain after the game . . . but no rain during the play time. Very considerate for the time of year . . . But taking everything into consideration the capacity crowd seemed to have a good time and for the most part good sportsmanship was displayed . . . One chap forgot and jumped the fence to carry his disappointment to the officials on the field . . . Winning the game is one thing but good sportsmanship is far more important.

Russian Foreign Policy Shifting?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The evidence grows that shift in Russian foreign policy is taking place. While in all probability it is no more than a change of strategy, it is, nevertheless, important.

Stalin's statement about peace made during the election campaign in this country, Molotov's remark that the Republican defeat was a defeat for those who wanted war, and the way in which Soviet newspapers grabbed an unfounded rumor that President Truman might go to Moscow for a meeting all add up to a change.

From the getting prompt echoes of the new line.

Behind the new emphasis, there may be the belated realization that Soviet tactics in the recent past have contributed largely to America's preparation for a possible war. The draft and other new defense measures hardly would have been passed by Congress if it had not been for Moscow's persistent belligerence expressed in every form of attack and denunciation.

Will Be No War
 "Notwithstanding all warmongering, we state categorically that there will be no war between the United States and the Soviet Union for the rest of 1948 nor in 1949; and that there is not one chance in 25 that there will be war in 1950."

Stalin attributes this partly to America's failure to gain support before the United Nations for the charge that the Berlin blockade represents a threat to peace. He also says that American "capitalists," seeing the inroads of communism after World War II, have become fearful of what might happen after another global conflict.

Even though the new emphasis should develop into a campaign for peace, it is not likely that the constant Soviet harassment in Berlin and elsewhere would cease. And certainly the Kremlin exploits U. S. mistakes.

One Of Those Mistakes
 One of those mistakes, in my opinion, is the decision to turn Ruhr industry back to German ownership. While protests may be damped down by the harsh necessities of the moment, this goes against the view of Western Europe and most opinion in England.

It is a powerful propaganda weapon handed to the Russians. Many people in this country are coming to feel increasingly that controls in Germany are being put back in the hands of those who will use them once more for aggression and war.

Genuine peace overtures from Russia should not be rebuffed. A meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers should be possible in (Continued on Page Seven)

The Melody Lingers On

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—YOU AND ME: Tax cuts under the Tru Deal will benefit our personal but not our corporate selves. Low incomes will suffer less, but an excess profits tax is indicated. Producers of foods, materials, services and day labor will take home proportionately more than producers of ideas, investment capital and accumulated success.

WE SWEAT AND STRAIN: Up goes minimum wage and down goes the wear-and-tear of collective bargaining. Union demands will be easier to justify since the electorate has endorsed the President's scatter-shot attack on Wall Street (where's that?) and big business.

BODIES ALL ACHIN': Corporate bodies only. We may certainly expect a dream-come-true for the legislation of Senator O'Mahoney and Senator-Elect Kefauver, two trust-busters of long standing. Both men have bills to prohibit the merging of small businesses into larger concerns.

AND WRACKED WITH PAIN: Several pending anti-trust suits under Attorney General Tom Clark may be expected to materialize. On the other hand, many investigations of so-called subversive persons and agencies are sure to vanish into the limbo of file-and-forget. Most of these smear-attacks should never have happened. The dead past will bury its dead—without national injury or regret.

LIFT THAT BARGE: One investigation—of the west coast shipping strike—will almost certainly be pushed to its limit. The Pacific port tie-up may be the biggest single argument against repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. Government, labor, statesmen and management want to use the Act's anti-Communist affidavit to starve out the Red influence in the shipping unions.

TOTE THAT BATTLE: Freight, passenger and mail rates can only go one way—up.

GET A LITTLE DRUNK AND YOU LAND IN JAIL: One laborite, John Lewis, will have to watch his fire-water when the cold, coal-seedy days roll 'round. Big Jaw, in backing candidate Dewey, paid off the wrong policeman.

I GET WEARY: Biggest understatement of the year was Tom Dewey's avowal that he would never again be GOP candidate for president. Dewey, as it has often been pointed out, was the minority choice of the Republican convention. He was nominated when a near-majority of the Republican groups failed to get together on a man to stop him. He of stop-Dewey groups failed to get together on a man to stop him. He is now on the "I told you so" end of gibes by the Taftites, Stassenites, Martinis, Warrenites and anybody-but-Deweyites. Much of this is unfair and all of it is after-thought, but it is the price of political failure. The fact still remains that Dewey, as will be constantly heard between now and 1952, could not beat the weakest Democratic candidate since William Jennings Bryan.

AND SICK OF TRYING: But only faint-hearted Republicans will give up the effort to swing the country away from the New or Tru Deal. After all, the Truman-Dewey vote was approximately 46 times larger than the Wallace or Dixiecrat vote. This means, if it means anything, a victory for middle-class, middle-of-the-road America. Republi-cans will always describe the 1948 election in the words of Prince Talleyrand who said: "It is worse than a crime—it is a blunder." They blame their own over-confidence, vagueness on issues, slackness in getting out the vote and, this above all, their choice of a once-beaten candidate.

TIREDS OF LIVING: "Had enough?" is expected to be the GOP battle-cry again in 1950 when Republicans try to capture Congress, as they did in the midst of Mr. Truman's first term. Price controls are certain to lead to shortages, black markets and popular dissatisfaction. Economic depression is unlikely under a war-economy or defense economy. But what about household commodities? The country has been raised with an electric icebox (or the promise thereof) in its mouth.

FEARED OF DYING: American wars have been won under Democratic Presidents Roosevelt, Wilson, Polk and Madison. Also under Republican Presidents McKinley and Lincoln. Independence was won under a scatter-brained Congress. National defense will be kept out of politics by common sense.

BUT OLD MAN RIVER: Biggest winner in the 1948 election was the two-party system. It got 90 per cent of the votes.

HE JUST KEEPS ROLLING ALONG: The Truman victory was not a vote for change. It was a vote for what happened in 1932. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

THE ANSWER IS CLEAR
 The answer is clear. The Soviets are bitterly opposed to our airlift aid to Berlin on two grounds. One is that it shows the resources and capabilities of a Capitalistic government. The other is that winning of favor from the mass of Berlin citizens will interfere with Soviet plans to absorb Berlin into the Soviet occupation zone.

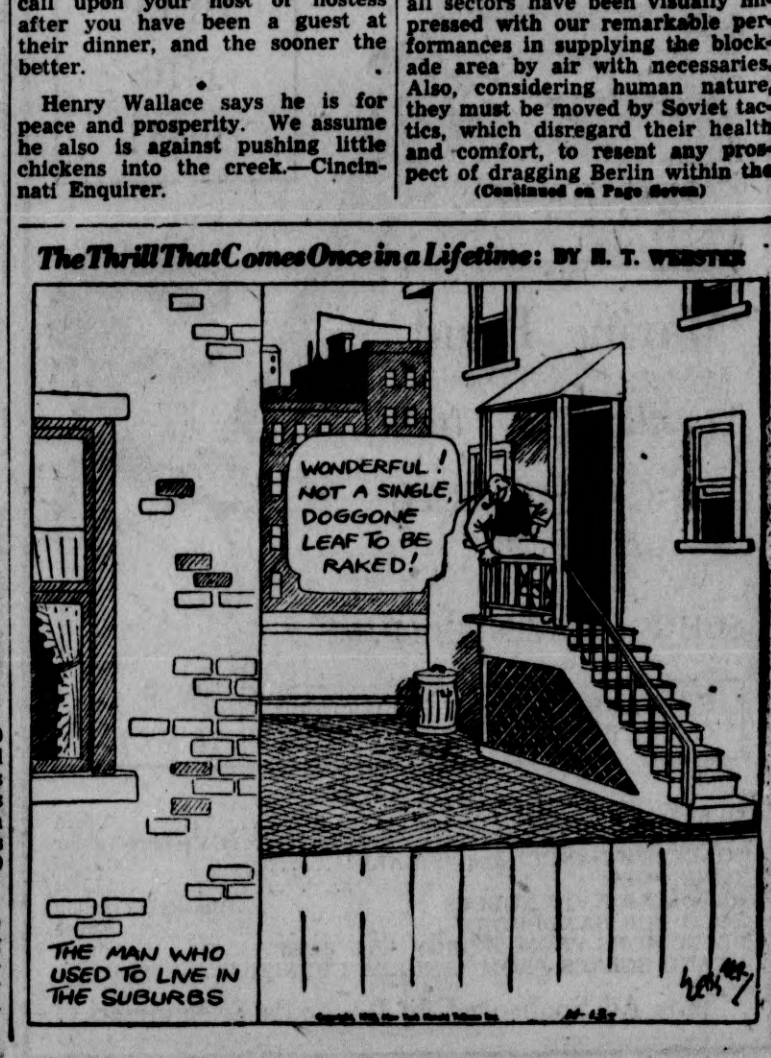

Already, no doubt, Berliners of all sectors have been visually impressed with our remarkable performances in supplying the blockade area by air with necessities. Also, considering human nature, they must be moved by Soviet tactics, which disregard their health and comfort, to resent any prospect of dragging Berlin within the Soviet occupation zone.

County Commissioners To Attend Hearing In Pittsburgh November 17-18-19

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Lawrence County commissioners plan to attend the hearings on the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio river canal in Pittsburgh, November 17-18-19.

It is possible that not all three will be at every session but the probabilities are that the board will be represented at each. The commissioners are interested in the development of the hearing and want to get as much information as possible upon the probable cost to this county if and when the canal is put through. According to information presently available the cost to local communities will be some $25,000,000. No breakdown of this cost has been received and hence nothing is known as to what the cost would be to Lawrence County.

TWO VERDICTS

Two verdicts were taken in cases heard in the Lawrence County court house. In the case of Frederick M. Dangel versus Nicholas Pappas, upon a charge of assault and battery, a verdict of not guilty but pay the costs was reached. This was a case where the plaintiff went into the defendant's restaurant and ordered some food. The defendant claimed the plaintiff did not pay, the plaintiff insists he did. In the argument that followed it was charged Pappas used a club upon Dangel, breaking his wrist.

In the case of Paul G. Shaw versus Clarence E. Conner a verdict for the defendant was reached. This was a case where Mr. Shaw was knocked down by the car of Mr. Conner on North Mill street, injuring him. He claimed Mr. Conner had operated the car at reckless speed.

DRAFT AND DRAUGHT

The dictionary says that you can spell it either way. It means a good many different things.

It may mean a net full of fish or the depth of a ship or a current of air or a call for soldiers or a note at the bank.

There seems to be a difference of opinion about the current of air which is called a draft.

Grandpa doesn't like a draft blowing on the back of his neck. Buster thinks it is fun to sit where the draft blows his hair all around.

The draft doesn't hurt Buster and Janie but Grandma does not like it.

Perhaps it is better for Grandpa to keep away from a draft and let Buster enjoy it.

Maybe Buster will be a Grandpa some day and he may not like a draft. It is a good thing for him to enjoy himself while he can.

The Mystery Bag is an after-dinner pastime that can be fun for the whole family. It probably won't be something that you will want to keep up over a long period of time, but it will be fun now and then.

Take a cloth, or even a paper bag, and drop into it a variety of small objects that aren't too easily identifiable things, such as a jack-knife, a small rubber ball, celluloid doll, or anything that won't be too hard to guess.

There are all sorts of things that you can include among the contents of the Mystery Bag. Here are a few that may start you thinking about the particular doo-dads easily available in your house: coins of different denominations, a pencil eraser taken from the pencil, a whole clove, an old-fashioned shoe button, a toothpick.

For the younger children you will want to have some easily identifiable things, such as a jack-knife, a small rubber ball, celluloid doll, or anything that won't be too hard to guess.

Around Hollywood

By ROLAND HAYES
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 13.—Lionel Barrymore's favorite indoor sport is spinning yarns about his colorful past.

Between scenes the other day for his latest movie, "Down to the Sea in Ships", Barrymore cut loose with a parcel from his storehouse of stories.

In the 20th Century-Fox flicker Barrymore gets seriously ill aboard a whaling brig. While workmen switched around equipment for another scene, the veteran actor remarked that lying flat on his back reminded him of the time he was knocked cold by the great John L. Sullivan.

It seems that when Lionel was a gay young blade in his early twenties, he decided to build up his physique through gymnasium training. Frequently he would don the gloves and mix it up with Bob Fitzsimmons, another ring immortal, who lived at the same New York hotel.

"A couple of years later," Barrymore reminisced, "I fancied myself as quite handy with my dukes. One afternoon I met John L. at an oyster bar. I suppose I must have bragged a bit about my fisticuffing ability."

Suffers Knockout
"Anyway, it was Sullivan's playful habit to take a swing at friends with no more serious intention than knocking their hats off and scaring them half to death."

"I remember seeing a punch coming my way, and I remember trying to duck a fist as big as a ham. But that's all I remember. When I snapped to, John L. was dripping water from an oyster shell over my head and roaring affectionately."

"You poor fool, if you'd stood still I wouldn't have hurt you. But you got smart and ducked right into my punch. The next time you want lessons, come to me, not Fitzsimmons!"

BLONDES PREFERRED
Sailors still prefer blondes. A pin-up picture survey among the crew of the USS Antitam, the aircraft carrier on which Warner's "Task force" company is embarked, shows that the navy likes its movie actresses blonde. In a ration of about seven to two.

Locker-door favorites on the flat-top, at any rate, include Virginia Mayo, Betty Grable, Eleanor Parker, Lana Turner and June Haver—all on the light side. Runners-up are Lauren Bacall, Jane Wyman, Lucille Ball (red) Rita Hayworth (also red), and three brunettes, Paulette Goddard, Ava Gardner and Wanda Hendrix.

Mostly Holdovers
Most of these screen sirens are holdovers in the pin-up department from the war years. With the exception of the Misses Gardner and Hendrix who are just coming into fame in the crew's living quarters.

Apparently, it's the older age group that shows preference for the darker shades of screen beauty. Most of the old-time swabbies registered votes for Miss Hayworth and Miss Gardner.

And apparently the younger sailors can't get enough pictures

Authority On China To Speak To Methodists

Rev. Frank T. Cartwright, D. D., associate secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker at the "Advance for Christ and His Church" meeting at Oil City, Pa., on November 15.

In 1945-46, Dr. Cartwright spent six months in China. He travelled thousands of miles in both "free" and "occupied" China, visited fifteen major cities, held 160 groups conferences, and had

1,389 personal interviews with leaders in all walks of life. The visit was made not only on behalf of the Methodist Church, but also the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, comprising 123 American and Canadian missionary bodies. His message will be delivered against the background of his long service in China and his recent visits.

Before joining the staff of the Board of Missions and Church Extension, Dr. Cartwright, was a missionary in Fukien Province, China, for eleven years. During that period he came into close touch with life and movements on the southern coast and he also travelled widely in northern China and the Yangtze valley. In 1935 he revisited the Orient, spending considerable time in north, central, eastern and western China.

He has had a wide experience in the mission field both in Japan and in India, and is now doing graduate work at Cornell in preparation for a return to the foreign field. rendered eagerly to Americans tooth and nail. That is a hypothesis that never can be proved. In any case there were many field commanders in 1945 who were happy that a high command decision gave the Russians responsibility for Berlin and saved their own divisions from decimation.

Mr. Truman and Stalin may not at all. But the world offers no better place for retrospect on the full meaning of war and its hor-

Helen Hayes returns to Radio in the Electric Theatre

Sunday Evenings—CBS Coast-to-Coast—9 P. M., EST

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW WITH HELEN HAYES

"I'm thrilled to be the new Electric Theatre's leading lady," Miss Hayes declared when interviewed after her recent stage triumph in London. "It will give me an ideal opportunity to play stage and screen roles that the public likes best. And I'm delighted to have the Electric Light and Power Companies as my sponsors. I'll be working for all those men and women who bring us electricity no matter what—and for all the people who own the companies. Imagine having millions of homes!"

"What are some of my favorite roles? Well, here are photographs of three of them . . ."

"When this heroine lived, women had almost no rights—not even the right to act on the stage. They were little more than kitchen drudges." How different things are now!
With ever-increasing electric service at her finger tips, the modern woman has time to lead a far happier, fuller life.

"Although she ruled a great empire, she knew few of the conveniences the average woman enjoys today." Thanks to dependable, low-cost electric service, the modern American housewife enjoys, in many ways,
a more queenly life than most of history's queens.

Can you identify these famous roles played by Helen Hayes?

(Read the clues supplied by Miss
Hayes before checking your answers.
Correct answers are upside-down at bottom of page.)

"The won her husband from the 'other woman,' in the play, 'What Every Woman Knows.' In her day, few people used much electricity, or suspected that it would some day become the most useful service, and the biggest bargain, in every American home."

spite of the hair-splitting that has gone on before the U.N. in Paris.
The position of the United States in Paris is not too strong.
Our delegation is vulnerable on several points in the Berlin dispute. The nations not directly involved seem inclined to call down a plague on both the major contenders as the wearisome wrangle goes on.

This may be the moment for a broad advance toward at least a temporary peace.

Keller surrendered quietly when troopers approached the automobile.

He was taken to the state police barracks in Harrisburg to await the arrival of Allentown police.

Tularemia, Or Rabbit Fever

Now that the small game season is open many sportsmen will be in the outdoor's after game and every hunter should be careful in the way he handles his gun as not to endanger the life of his fellow-hunter. Also the hunter should guard himself and use care in the way he handles his game and be alert against the chances of contracting tularemia, a disease that is found in rabbits, quail, grouse, foxes and groundhogs.

Tularemia, or rabbit fever, is a disease found in rodents and it is transmitted to animals and birds by an insect. Humans can be infected by handling diseased game, and the results can become fatal.

Wood ticks and flies will get the germ when they come in contact with any animal that has the fever and if any one comes in contact with ticks that has the fever and is bitten sufficient poison can be transmitted to the skin to cause infection.

When handling rabbits that are shot, be sure to wipe off any blood that gets on the hands for when it dries on the skin the danger of becoming infected is greater. So be safe and use care with your game after it is shot, and always treat the hands with a good disinfectant after the game is dressed.

The gunner in the field can always spot a healthy rabbit or bird by his quick actions in the take off. For sickly games does not have the spark of life as does healthy ones.

IF TANDEM AXLES ARE SAFER, WHY SHOULDN'T THEY BE USED?

Safety is of paramount importance to the motor truck industry. It isn't enough to get the cargo over the road on time, it must be gotten over safely.

Modern automotive engineers have devised the tandem axle for the heavier trucks. They provide a better load factor, have greater braking area, and because the axles are tandem, they reduce the impact upon the highway.

The motor truck industry asks only that it be permitted to haul the legal load limit in Pennsylvania, 62,000 pounds gross, in one vehicle. That load is legal now, if a four wheel hitch is hooked onto a truck. The safer, more efficient way is the tandem axle truck.

Doesn't it sound sensible to legalize what is known to be better?

New Castle Senior High
Band Ends Regular Season
With Excellent
Job At Warren

Even though the football team wasn't quite up to the job at hand Friday night in Warren, O., the New Castle senior high school band gave its usual good performance. Fact is the band closed the season in a blaze of glory.

The same Armistice Day program given here November 11 was repeated in Warren. The band came on field playing "Flying High" with the majorettes acting as the propellers. The band then formed U.S.M. and played the Marine hymn, followed with the "Sailors Hornpipe".

Lights Out
The field lights were pulled off and the band formed a huge shield with the band lights on and the majorettes twirling lighted batons. Joe Calalluca did the trumpet solo work in the "Columbia Polka". The band marched off playing the "Stars and Stripes Forever".

The performance closed a season of excellent work as a show band. Joe F. Repligle, director, brought the team to a high degree of proficiency early in the season and improved it week by week. Mrs. Repligle was the architect of the various formations and directed the work of the majorettes and their work this year was a standout. Paul Gibson is the drum major of the band.

Back of the brilliant scene on the field this year there has been several civilians who did some fine "backstage work". Rudy Hermann has had charge of the lights and has timed every performance to the second. Andy Ross and Don Fediani have been equipment men and Edward Gilkey has announced the band routines. To all of them Mr. Repligle extended his appreciation today for a job well done.

FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

"I have just received an engraved invitation to a fiftieth wedding anniversary dinner in honor of a couple I have known for several years. Please let me know the correct form of acceptance or regret—an appropriate gift and whether it should be sent or taken along to the dinner.

Answer: The usual form of formal acceptance or regret should be sent, thus:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith accept with pleasure Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones' kind invitation for dinner on Saturday the twenty-seventh of November at 7 o'clock

In case of a regret, substitute this for the second line: "regret that they are unable to accept," and in that case omit the last line. Your reply should be written on white stationery and be centered as shown in the above sample.

The fiftieth anniversary is a very sacred one, indeed. It is called the "Golden" and gifts of gold are invariably given by the family and close friends who can afford this precious metal. The "groom" must not be forgotten. Either a joint gift must and usually is given or individual gifts should be presented to each.

Gifts of gilt rather than gold, will do—bookends, picture frame, gilt-edge china, a vase, a lamp, etc. It is not essential, however, to cling to the gold idea. Really any gift, including flowers, will be well received.

Question: Who cuts the bride's cake at a wedding reception?
Answer: The bride should cut the first piece of cake and divide it with the groom. After that, the bride's mother or anyone else who is serving may cut and distribute the remainder.

Present your problems to Miss Personal who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

REV. KARL K. QUIMBY, D.D.

One of Methodism's best-known clergymen and educators, recently returned from a visit to central Europe and attendance at the World Council of Churches' assembly in Amsterdam, Holland, will be the guest speaker at the "Advance for Christ and His Church" meeting at Oil City, Pa., on November 15. He is the Rev. Karl K. Quimby, D.D., educational secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, in New York City. An engaging speaker on missionary and related topics, Dr. Quimby is in demand as a lecturer and teacher at missionary gatherings, church institutes, and at conferences and conventions. On this occasion he will speak on his recent experiences and observations in Europe.

Lifelong Interest
Dr. Quimby has had a lifelong interest in the missionary emphasis of the Christian Church. He has visited Europe a number of times and has been in Cuba and Puerto Rico, in Haiti and the Dominican Republic and in other "home missions fields" studying social, economic and cultural problems at first hand. He was a delegate to the Oxford Conference of 1935, was an exchange preacher at Great Britain, and has been active in other ecumenical and international gatherings. One of the founders and promoters of the interdenominational "Every Member Canvass" for local communities, he has been chairman of the organization, and was awarded honors for the "best religious publicity campaign of 1946". For a number of years he organized and directed seminars, retreats, institutes, pastors' schools and other gatherings for the training and inspiring of pastors of the Methodist Church.

In the summer of 1948, together with fifteen missionary secretaries and pastors of the Methodist Church, he visited Christian work and Methodist leaders in the countries of Europe, including Poland and Germany. Member of a Methodist family that through three generations has given of its sons to the Christian ministry, Dr. Quimby was born in New Jersey, and was educated at Dickinson College and Drew Theological Seminary. Ordained to the ministry of the Methodist Church, he served pastorates in West Orange, Irvington, Newark and Ridgewood, N. J. and from 1946 to 1947 was superintendent of the Jersey City District of the Newark Annual Conference. ### NEW WORDS FOUND IN THE CLOTHING NEWS

Each season brings new words in the clothing news. Here are a few, both new and old.

The silhouette is the outline of a fashion figure. Fashions of different periods can be recognized by the silhouette even though no details of the dress can be seen.

The profile silhouette is popular this winter. It has slim front lines, fitted bodice, and back skirt interest or fullness. The effect of this fullness is best seen from a side view of the silhouette. A bodice is a closely fitted bodice, much used in the present silhouette. This bodice often has side front and side back seams, or the fullness may be taken out by darts from the waistline to bust line.

The bertha collar is wide, deep enough to fall over the shoulders. It is frequently used on a fairly low neck dress.

Crinoline is a fabric of stiffened cotton used to make a full skirt stand out at the hemline. The term is used also to describe any wired or stiffened "cage" to wear under full skirts.

A cummerbund is a broad tight-fitting sash. It is very popular now worn with full skirts and bolero suits.

Dege is a French word used to describe the low, broad neckline now popular on dresses. The neckline is often made to stand away from the figure. A center slit with winged points is a popular variation of this neckline.

Passementerie is a rich trimming made of braid and beads or embroidery. This is a Victorian trimming now being used on dresses and jackets.

A reefer is a fitted coat of sturdy fabric and may be single or double breasted.

New Castle Lions Club will have its weekly noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday. The speaker will be Rev. James A. Gaier, pastor of the First Methodist church, who has just recently returned from a world council of churches meeting in Amsterdam. His subject will be "Our Responsibility."

R. F. CONWAY,
Secretary.

New Castle Edged By Warren Panthers In Finale, 6-0

Intercepted Pass Provides Victory

A most dejected New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team walked off the Warren High field last night, their dreams of an undefeated and untied season for 1948 left behind on the grim cold turf, as the Panthers of Warren, capitalized on an intercepted pass in the fourth period, to win a thrilling 6-to-0 victory.

Thus history repeats itself, Warren simply has a "jinx" on New Castle. It was Warren in 1942 that spoiled an undefeated season for New Castle, the Panthers winning 7 to 6, as New Castle went ahead to win the WPIAL class AA playoff against Aliquippa.

Grabs Pass, Scores

Shortly after the fourth period began young Paul Smith, a sub halfback for Warren, grabbed a Paolone thrown pass around the 50, and sped for a touchdown. New Castle rallied in the dying minutes of the game, ran the ball to the one-yard line, and lost it on downs.

A sellout crowd of over 10,000 saw the contest. There were well over 2,000 from New Castle on hand.

Fumbles Prove Costly

Everytime it looked as if the New Castle machine was about to hit high gear, the matter of fumbling came up. Whether it was from over-anxiousness or what, we don't know, but the 'Cans simply couldn't hold onto the ball, at critical times. Warren also did a lot of fumbling.

Something happened last night that hasn't happened for a long time—New Castle didn't have a first down the first half. Warren had four. The 'Cans found the Warren team waiting for them on everything they tried. Warren would have New Castle well scouted.

A thrice defeated Warren Panther was "up" for this big game. It was alerted with only a Thanksgiving Day date with Bethlehem left to play. Warren literally shot the works, so to speak, physically and mentally. Warren would have been satisfied just to tie the mighty New Castle juggernaut, but of course ran into deliriums as Smith made that all-important touchdown run.

No Allibi For This

There is certainly no allibi for a team that got beat as New Castle did last night. An inspired underdog Warren team, ran true to form. Warren had not expected to defeat New Castle, they were content to just hold the Phil Bridenbaugh machine. It was strictly a defensive Warren team, bent on seeing that New Castle didn't score—they didn't score either. In fact outside of the one time in the fourth period, New Castle was never near the Warren goal line.

Warren was the only team to defeat New Castle last year, 14 to 13 here. Maybe they still thought about that. A "jinx" is hard to shake off. New Castle didn't play the kind of football last night they are capable of.

Try Two Field Goals

The fans saw something last night that has been foreign to high school football for many years—two attempted field goals, by young Herb Edington, colored Warren halfback, who missed them both, one from the 35 and one from the 40, but gave the fans a big thrill anyhow. Warren was desperate for a score, when they found the line of New Castle too solid to penetrate.

New Castle fans had something to run a temperature over in the third period—Paolone found Sammy Keyes with a well executed screen pass, and Keyes raced 32 yards to the Warren 26 for a first down, but here New Castle's attack bogged down, and the locals gave up the ball on the Warren 20. This was the closest New Castle got in two and one-half periods. Only one serious casualty occurred in a clean hard fought battle.

To Leave Point?

SID GILLMAN, and coach at West Point and former head coach at Miami University, Oxford, O., is reported ready to leave the Point next year to become head coach at Cincinnati. Gillman is a former Ohio star. (International)

Detroit Fires Two Coaches

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—(INS)—The Detroit Tigers' managerial housecleaning was complete today with the ouster of coaches Art Mills and Roger "Doc" Cramer.

The Tigers now have a clear track in the selection of a manager to replace Steve O'Neill. The veteran pilot was notified a week ago that his contract would not be renewed.

Bill Sweeney, third member of the O'Neill regime, was released earlier at his own request.

Have Free Hand

General Manager Billy Evans of the Detroit club said Cramer and Mills were released to give the new manager the customary free hand in selecting his assistants.

Cramer saw action with Washington, the Philadelphia A's and the Boston Red Sox before coming to the Tigers in 1941. An outfielder, he doubled as a player-coach during part of last season to complete 20 years as a major league player.

Mills, a veteran minor leaguer, came to the Tigers in 1944 from Utica, N. Y.

DiMaggio Is Again Hospital Patient

BALTIMORE, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee bomber, rested at Johns Hopkins hospital Friday while surgeons determined whether he will undergo an operation on his right heel.

Dr. George E. Bennett, bone specialist at the hospital, is examining the painful heel which handicapped the center fielder during the last season. It was Bennett who removed a bone spur from DiMaggio's left heel two years ago.

Dr. Bennett is awaiting the arrival of the Yankee team physician before making a final decision on the treatment for the slinger.

The Yankee physician was accompanied by Phil Rizzuto, the New York shortstop, who will be treated for an ailing arm.

Gaston Post In 'Y' Civic League

Athletic chairman Wesley Mann announced today that Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, would again enter a basketball team in the Civic-Industrial league.

Many of the members of last year's championship squad will again be on the team. Any other player desiring a contract should contact business manager Jerry Potter at 7324-J.

The team will be coached by veteran mentor Mike Kulich, who says that his boys will win the title again this year.

Polish Falcons To Meet Sunday

Edward "Flash" Wenda, athletic director at the Polish Falcon hall, has called an important meeting for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon of all Falcons interested in forming a strong basketball team this winter. The Falcons have been invited to join the city-county league being formed here.

The Falcons in years gone by have turned out powerful quintets.

Another Week To Wait Now

McKEESPORT, Pa., Nov. 13.—(INS)—McKeesports big bag Tigers knocked Wilksburg right out of the WPIAL Class AA championship last night as they rolled to an upset 25-7 triumph. Wilksburg was never in the game after McKeesport's Paredes ran the opening kickoff back 78 yards for a touchdown.

Duquesne made it nine in a row by dumping Clairton, 32-6. The "Little Duke" stepped off to a 26-0 halftime lead and were never headed. They close their season next Saturday at Donora.

Wilksburg's defeat leaves the title consideration spots exclusively to New Castle, Monongahela and Duquesne.

There will not be any action by the Decisions committee of the WPIAL on the naming of two teams for the Class AA playoff Saturday, Nov. 27, until after next Saturday. If Donora ties or defeats Duquesne it will be New Castle and Monongahela in the playoff. If Duquesne beats Donora, then just who plays in the Class AA title game is strictly up to the WPIAL committee and will be determined on the number of points.

Free Substitution Has Changed Football Game

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The free substitution rule in football has caused more confusion than any regulation ever written into the book and has wrecked the basic idea behind the game.

It is virtually impossible now to keep track of the shifts in players, and the great individual all-around stars gradually are disappearing from the scene.

Army was booed constantly against Stanford when hordes of players were run in and out of the one-sided game, but nobody is paying any attention to the spectators who regard football as a game between two teams, instead of a half dozen.

No More Strong Men

The day of the strong man on the gridiron is over. As the game is played now, you are tabbed by the coach as a defensive player or one to be used on the offensive and the result is a grand mess of non-sense.

And there is no end in sight. Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football association, thinks the rule is here to stay.

Bushnell reflects the opinion of the college coaches, and those who find the present rules obnoxious may as well be prepared to accept them indefinitely.

Bushnell pointed out at the meeting of the football writers that the present rule was adopted at the suggestion of the coaches.

Bushnell said:

"I believe the offensive-defensive team system is here to stay."

Shows Progress

Bushnell's idea is that returning to the restriction of substitutions would be a step in reverse for football. The present system shows progress. That's what Bushnell says.

Nevertheless there are two big arguments against football as it currently is being played.

The game is less interesting now and the school with a small squad is at a tremendous disadvantage.

It just doesn't seem to make sense for a coach to send in an entire team to substitute when the ball changes hands.

And it stands to reason that the school with two or three or more full teams must out-man the school with one good first team and a lack of reserves. The latter must grow weary toward the finish and be beaten down by sheer weight of numbers.

Favors Big Schools

Under this rule the big football factories such as Army, should go unbeaten forever. Players can concentrate strictly on learning either defensive play or offensive play, and get more time for rest during the game.

The time will probably come when there will be two sets of coaches to handle the separate squads and finally schools will find themselves with a rivalry over which of its two teams is better—the defensive one or the offensive one.

Bettina-Felpi Bout Arranged

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—What we need around New York in boxing is a rule like they have in Australia horse racing, which is a retroactive investigation.

Putting it another way, in Australia they will rule off a horse, a rider, a trainer and an owner after a victory if the horse has been running badly previously as to indicate skulduggery.

We don't investigate victories in this country, beyond the formal saliva test, on the race track, and we don't even go that far in boxing. The retroactive viewpoint could well be applied to such gladiators as Melio Bettina.

Meet November 19th

Bettina has been signed for a 10-round bout with Enrique Felpi at St. Nick's arena on Nov. 19. Nobody has ever heard of Felpi before, except in the smallest of clubs, while Bettina last was seen in these immediate parts a knock-out victim.

The one saving factor to the arrangement of the match is that the 20th Century Sporting club is putting it in St. Nick's instead of in Madison Square Garden. Officials should still institute a saliva test at least on Bettina.

No one has forgotten so soon his last appearance in Madison Square Garden, a spot to which he is gradually working his way for an encore.

Bettina, a southpaw heavyweight, who once held the light-heavyweight title, took one punch on the chin in the aforementioned Garden bout and was another of Gus Lesnevich's victims.

Gavilan Wins From Pellone

By BILL CORUM

(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The rough and roistering fight between the Gavilan Kid, of Cuba, and tough Tony Pellone, of Greenwich Village, ran to its "figure" in Madison Square Garden last night quite as perfectly as Miss Rita Hayworth's runs to hers.

Which is to say, leaving the romantic reference out of it, that Gavilan and Pellone fought exactly the fight that everybody thought they would. With the result being as expected.

Unanimous Decision

The Keed, 13-to-5 favorite at post, got the unanimous decision after ten rounds. But had to hustle his best all the way. Say for the Pellone boy that nobody, or almost nobody, shoves him around.

I thought the fight was closer than the three all-but-imperfect agreement officials made it. Referee Mark Conn and Judge Charles Shortell gave it to Gavilan, 7 rounds to 3, while Judge Joe Agnello scored the rounds, 6 to 4.

My card read Gavilan 5 rounds, Pellone 4 and 1 even, although I don't usually call a round even. When you haven't time to keep a point and round score doth, however—and I haven't—there are times when you can't help it.

In any case, Gavilan won all right and maybe I drew it too fine by making him the winner by, shall we say, only a soupcon. That, I suppose would depend on what sort of "soupcon" the chef is serving today.

Citation can run in mud or he can go on a dance floor. He is the toughest, the best and the greatest horse this country has ever seen.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

TIME was when East New Castle district, or Gardner, had considerable small game. However, those days are no more, game being lacking, which has caused Howard Walker and other Gardner residents to ask that, some rabbits and birds be stocked thereabouts. Another section where small game, excepting squirrels, has disappeared, is Harlansburg. . . . Harry Evans, local fisherman, reports that he enjoyed eating a portion of the "Muskie" caught by Jimmy Cole. . . . His brother Jim, reports that two years ago while fishing near Oil City, in the Allegheny, he saw what appeared to be a "railroad tie" coming down the river. He made a cast for the extra-sized "Muskie" but it paid no attention to his bait. . . . There is some talk of Matchmaker Tommy Leach of the JAC, matching Art Williams of Pittsburgh vs Rizeri Ronzi of Youngstown for a December show in The Arena. He intends also to make an offer to Bobby Neal of Beaver Falls, who battles Irish Jimmy Sanders next week in Pittsburgh. . . . The attendance at the Wabash Bears vs Ft. Myer, 19-0 victory for the Bears, should have been larger. It was a good game. . . . There'll be a mob of New Castle fans at the Cleveland Browns vs San Fran' 49's game in Cleveland, Sunday. However, the Pittsburgh Steelers vs Chi-Cardinals will also attract their share of New Castle patronage. . . . Among the feminine devotees of trout fishing, is Mrs. H. W. Helmick. The Pennsylvania Angler sometime ago carried a photo of Mrs. Helmick fishing Scrubsh creek. . . . Apparently Jimmie Dunn of Cleveland, is going back into the boxing game on a big scale. He has two gymnasiums operating nowadays, in which youngsters are taught to box. . . . George Chip, former middleweight champion will fetch forth his ring shoes in the near future, to be referee at a smoker. Twenty years ago George was the chief referee at the Jolly Bowl. . . . Jim Meagan, Mills Way, former Butlerite, and Here & There, hopes Mayor Clifford (Mose) Campbell of Butler fully recovers from a recent serious operation in Cleveland. In his day, Cliff was one of the best basketball players in the country, having starred at W & J, and on pro courts later. He's a cousin of Dr. Ralph Campbell, local eye, ear and throat specialist, who also was a good basketballer. . . . Owen Fox chased four hunters out of Cunningham park this week, thus saving the lives of ringnecks which loiter there. . . . Sheriff Frank Coen and Fireman Roy Samuels shot a ringneck and three rabbits. . . . Lloyd McKinnon, one of the prime movers in the Chiefs, a new organization here, says they'll initiate November 17 in the CIO hall. . . . Tossing a hearty gut-faw at modern baseball, Ty Cobb, acknowledged by some to have been the greatest ball player of all time, states in the current issue of Sport magazine: "The live ball has ruined the game and eliminated the speed and skill a player needed during the era of a squishy, slow 'apple'. . . . Penn Power club employees are yet talking of the splendid address delivered by Umpire Bill McKinley. . . . They'll have another club meeting late this month. . . . The whereabouts of Dan Dailey, former heavyweight, and Bill Lion, wrestler, are unknown. Last heard of, Big Dan was in Florida, while Bill was last heard of, wrestling exhibitions with a circus. Peter Askanows and Livon promoted wrestling in the Gardens, Neshannock Avenue, and also at Centennial field. . . . Morrie Suber, Neshannock Avenue, failed to hit the Big Time, because of his lack of weight. He weighed only 165. The heavyweights attracted crowds and money.

Grouse dog events are under way in the national refuge near Merlenville. The Grouse futurity and Grouse championship will be staged. Joe Williams, of this city, has two entries, one each event. . . . Seattle Hanover, a yearling trotter, out of Scorsore by Nibble Hanover, brought $18,000. Mrs. Frances Johnston, Castleton Farms, Lexington, Ky., was the purchaser at Harrisburg.

Don ("Pop") Longenecker, veteran Penn State harrier, is believed to be the oldest cross-country runner still competing in college ranks. The West Newton, Pa., ex-GI is 32 years old and enjoying the best season of his career.

Citation is the greatest race horse that ever stepped on a race track. The public can't know as a jockey how good this horse is because they see him only as another horse on the run, and not from the saddle.

Northern Pike

Catch Changed

HARRISBURG, Nov. 13.—(INS)—A reduction in the legal size and an increase in the catch of northern pike taken in inland waters was reported today by the State Fish Commission.

The size was trimmed from 24 to 16 inches and the catch boosted from two to four a day.

The commission, which revised the rule at the request of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs, said the change was prompted by discovery that pike "were not reaching sizes of more than 16 inches."

Other fish rules remained unchanged.

STOCK MARKET SLIGHTLY HIGHER

Volume Of Trading In Short Session Is Small, However; Plus Signs Predominate

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Stocks were slightly higher this morning but volume was so small as to rob the short session of any significance.

Plus signs predominated, although a goodly number of important issues were lower on the day.

These included Western Union, Studebaker, Anaconda, U. S. Rubber, General Electric and Southern Railway.

On the upside were U. S. Steel, Baltimore & Ohio, Standard Oil of N. J., Mid-Continent Petroleum, Radio Corp., and N. Y. Central.

Bonds and curb stocks were dull. Grains were lower, losses running to more than a cent in corn.

Cotton was quiet and mixed.

Mexican Doctors Develop Anti-Hoof And Mouth Vaccine

May Permit U. S. Authorities To Lift Quarantine On Mexican Cattle By 1950

By THOMAS L. GREEN
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 13.—Two Mexican doctors have developed an anti-hoof and mouth vaccine that may permit American authorities to lift the quarantine on Mexican cattle and meat by January, 1950.

Dr. Fernando Camargo and Dr. Tellez Giron, expect that by December of this year 1,000,000 head of clove-footed animals will be vaccinated monthly.

It was estimated that about 600,000 head have been vaccinated to date. The so-called "infected zone," which embraces 15 Mexican states, has been 8,000,000 and 10,000,000 head of cattle which must be immunized before the quarantine can be lifted.

Begin Experimenting
The Mexican doctors began experimenting with the vaccine in the American-Mexican Hoof and Mouth Disease Commission laboratories after a half-a-million infected cattle had been slaughtered over the past two years.

Mexican farmers staged riots over what they termed the unnecessary destruction of their cattle but authorities asserted it was the only way to stop the plague.

Restricted areas were sealed off and Mexican cattle were not permitted to leave the "infected zone."

Pancho Scanlan, an official of the joint commission, is optimistic over the progress made in eradicating the cattle disease. He said: "It's beginning to look like Mexico will show the world how it's done if this new Mexican vaccine is successful."

He predicted the vaccine will be used in South America and Europe and eventually all over the world. Scanlan said the opposition the peasants had over having their cattle injected has disappeared. He added:

"Now they are asking for more vaccine."

"Fortunately, the people are extremely receptive and the most encouraging thing about the whole program is the complete cooperation with the American veterinarians."

It is estimated that 500 million pounds of used kitchen fats are wasted annually.

Book Display At First Methodist

As a part of national Children's Good Book week, the Good Literature committee of First Methodist church has provided a fine display of over 100 different book titles. These books will be available to the public in the church parlor every day from 12 to 5, and on Monday and Wednesday to 9 o'clock during the week of November 15. Recently there has been much discussion about the wrong kinds of comic books. First Methodist church invites parents to come and visit this book display, in order that they might have an idea of the finer children's books that are being published today.
